A SERIOUS FINANCIAL DILEMMA

After nearly two years of the three-year period designated for payment of Presbyterian Development Fund pledges, $4,894,500 has been paid in and sent out to the eight participating General Assembly boards and agencies.

Presbyterians pledged a total of $15,075,252.50 in 1963, exceeding the $12 million capital funds campaign goal by more than $3 million.

Herman Jones of Atlanta, treasurer of the fund, announced the largest allocation has gone to the Board of World Missions, which has received $2,001,120.

The Board of Church Extension has received $923,520; Stillman College, $223,680; Presbyterian School of Christian Education, $194,400; Board of Christian Education, $600,000; TRAV, $14,000; Mountain Retreat Association, $242,880; and Presbyterian Center, $694,500.

These funds are being put to good use to advance the cause of Christ throughout the world, but some boards and agencies are having to curtail urgently needed projects because of the slowness of receiving PDF money.

Agency executives were asked by Presbyterian News Service: "Have you borrowed money from financial institutions to begin projects on the strength of your anticipation of receiving your allocation?"

The Board of World Missions has not borrowed money, but the slowness of receiving funds "has changed our timetable and caused us to reduce the size of projects in many instances," Dr. T. Watson Street, executive secretary, reports.

Similarly, the Board of Church Extension has not borrowed, but many presbyteries have made loans in expectation of receiving assistance from the board in the purchase of sites for churches and manses. The board has allocated all its PDF receipts to help presbytery buy sites. Dr. John F. Anderson, executive secretary, observes that "the longer we wait on the purchase of the many church sites already approved in this project, the more they will cost and thus the fewer we will obtain."

The Mountain Retreat Association has borrowed $600,000, "which would appear to be the maximum amount which we may expect to receive from this fund," President C. Grier Davis said. As the PDF money comes in, it is being used to amortize this indebtedness. The funds have been used in an extensive building and renovation program at the church's conference center.

Stillman College trustees authorized the borrowing of $400,000 on strength of the anticipation of receiving allocations by Dec. 31, 1966, from the Presbyterian Development Fund and the United Negro College Fund capital funds campaign. The money is being used primarily to construct the Samuel Burney Hay College Center and the Myrtle Williamson Memorial Prayer Chapel.

The Board of Christian Education has had to liquidate some government bonds to finance the production of Covenant Life Curriculum materials. If the money for the Presbyterian Development Fund had been paid at a faster rate, this would not have been necessary, Dr. Marshall C. Dendy, executive secretary, said.

Plans have been drawn for a new multi-purpose building at the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, but beginning construction has had to be delayed, according to President Charles E. S. Kraemer. The structure will house a dining room, bookstore, and student lounge.

The $12 million capital funds campaign was conducted on the basis of the following apportionment: Board of Church Extension, $2,308,500; Board of World Missions, $5,002,500; Stillman College, $559,000; PSCE, $486,000; Christian Education, $1,500,000; TRAV, $36,500; Montreat, $607,500; and Presbyterian Center, $1,500,000.

—Bill Lamkin

The facts contained in the accompanying news story give us a positive and accurate but unemotional picture of a most serious financial dilemma brought about, to put it most bluntly, by churches which have made promises but have not kept them. Since PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY does not benefit directly from the Presbyterian Development Fund, its editor feels compelled to emphasize the unfortunate, negative aspect of this dilemma. Boards and agencies have made plans, projected programs, contracted for construction, and made other financial commitments based on faith that the churches which made pledges to give certain sums would indeed honor those pledges and remit their funds on time to the PDF. For churches to renig on their commitments or for the Presbyterian Church US to fail in this mission is unthinkable. In a message to the churches Moderator S. J. Patterson Jr. says: "I urge all church members, pastors, and sessions to make every effort to fulfill their obligations in a task that will influence greatly what our Presbyterian Church does—or does not do—for generations to come."
